

“HOW CAN I JOIN COCO ART GALLERY?”

www.cocoartgallery.com

All new artists applying for entry to the Gallery must be members of one of the Art Council's 21 art organizations.

New artists will not be accepted at receiving if they have not applied online.

The jury committee selects the work that is complementary to COCO Art Gallery's current offerings. At various times, we may be looking for more or less of both the 2 D and 3 D work in the gallery. The seasonal flux of gallery items enters into the selection process and thus, if you are not selected at this time, please do not be discouraged. We would encourage you to apply again.

If you are selected, the final judging will be done on receiving day. Thank you for considering COCO Art Gallery for your work.

Please download and complete the application under the “How to Join” tab on the website. Review all of the information, especially the Prospectus and Receiving procedures.

Email the requested information to cocoartgalleryjury@gmail.com. Please submit ONLY five images if you don't have a website. The artwork should represent what you would be exhibiting in the gallery. Your application will be reviewed and you will be notified of our decision.

Most of your questions should be answered by reading the website information. If you have further questions, please email Gallery Secretary Elaine Lefebvre paradisecoast703@gmail.com

Jurying Criteria

All accepted art should comply with current rules & technicalities as described in the Prospectus.

Some subject matter may be offensive to the public and will not be considered. Art highest in aesthetics and quality is the most desirable to the gallery.

All art presented must be created by the artist. Copying of other's art or photography without permission may have copyright consequences to the artist.

All mediums will be considered.
